Ewan

Seahorse Class

Ewan has made the most astonishing transformation over the last term, and the child that is part of our year 1 class today is barely recognisable from the quiet and unconfident member of Seahorse Class in September. Not only has Ewan grown from strength to strength in his confidence this year, but his academic work continues to flourish.

There aren't many five year old boys who don't want to spend their days playing and spending time outside, however Ewan's attitude towards school has really developed and he now comes into school happy and ready to learn. He listens carefully on the carpet and can answer questions when asked.

Ewan has moved from writing strings of letters that don't really mean very much to writing full sentences using his sounds to spell words. He is working hard at home and with Mrs Eames in extra sessions and this work is having a huge impact on his learning in school. When he puts his mind to completing a task, he focuses well in order to achieve.

Ewan has, over the course of the year, really developed his social skills and plays happily with a broadening range of his peers.

Ewan has really impressed us this term and we cannot wait to see where his growing confidence takes him. He has great potential and we are so proud. Well done!
