RYARSH AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE

William

Orang-utan Class

Having only worked with Orang-utan class for a few weeks, it has been very difficult to choose one child who has stood out above their peers, as I have seen so many examples of great learning. However, Mrs Taplin, Miss Lucas and myself have decided on a person who continually shows fantastic commitment to learning, impeccable manners and an unfailingly positive attitude around both the classroom and the school.

William is an exceptionally hard worker in class, who focusses his attention completely on the task at hand, trying his hardest to achieve his best in everything he does. He understands the importance of listening carefully and following instructions, and always goes the extra mile to check, correct and improve his work to ensure the finished article he hands in is of the highest standard it can be. This term, in particular, he has shown outstanding dedication to progress, striving every time to improve his scores on SATs practice tests, and to get his personal best as high as it can be. His attitude to the SATs themselves was one of rational, mature and well-reasoned processes, with a level-head and a positive mindset to see him through the week.

William has also proved himself to be a considerate, kind, thoughtful and honest boy, time and again. He will be the first to offer help with handing out resources, collecting books and preparing for lessons, and shows excellent manners and a mature attitude throughout the school day. He is a learner who consistently demonstrates the core values that I have seen to be at the heart of Ryarsh Primary School, and who values, cares for and supports his peers around him.

At this stage in Year 6, with thoughts beginning to turn towards the future and the step up to secondary school, I am sure that William will continue to excel throughout this transition. His mature attitude and love for a challenge put him in great stead for the learning journey ahead. Well done, William, for a fantastic term, and thank you for your dedication and commitment to embodying the values of the school and facing the challenges of Year 6 with a smile and a positive outlook.

Signed - Mr Payne
